NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO MAY 27.

Congressional

WASHINGTON, May 26.—In the Senate, Casserly presented a petition of merchants of San Francisco asking for the removal of a dangerous rock in the bay.

Ramsey reported from the Postoffice Committee a bill providing for carrying the mails between the United States and the west coast of South America, giving a subsidy of $31,250 for each round voyage from New York to Valparaiso, via Panama.

In the House, Cullum reported a bill amending the law of New Mexico which reserves real estate from execution, with a proviso that homesteads only to the amount of $1,000 be reserved; the bill passed.

The bill creating an additional land district in Colorado passed.

The Northern Pacific Railroad bill was debated and all amendments rejected and the bill passed just as it came from the Senate by 107 to 55.

Postal Matters.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—It is officially announced that mails may be sent to New Zealand and Australia via San Francisco; mail rates, ten cents each for half ounce letters, newspapers ten cents each.

Fenian Affairs

CHICAGO, May 26.—There is considerable excitement among the Fenians here. A large meeting was held at Fenian Headquarters last night, the main object of which was the collection of funds, and a considerable amount was raised. Enthusiastic speeches were made. An unfortunate Canadian who happened to be present was pointed at as a spy and obliged to seek safety in flight. There is a rumor to the effect that a large number of men left here for the frontier, and a large quantity of arms, ammunition and supplies went yesterday to the same destination.

CINCINNATI, May 26.—One hundred Fenians have left here in small squads within the past 36 hours.

MALONE, N. Y., May 26.—Four regiments of Fenians crossed Trout River line this morning and are marching toward Huntington. Lt. Col. O'Leary in command; Cols. Smith, McQuade, Thompson and Campbell are regimental commanders.

ST. ALBANS, May 26.—The Fenian trouble, so far as the movement in this direction is concerned, has bursted. Soon after the arrest of O'Neil the Fenian officers held a council of war and decided that it was useless to continue the campaign with the small number of men at their command, or to make any further attempt at invading Canadian soil. Consequently the roads from here to Franklin are lined with returning Fenians. Gen. Spear, one of the Fenians, is here now. He says three Fenians were killed and ten or fifteen wounded yesterday. Among the latter is Gen. Donnelly. Gen. O'Neil is now in the Burlington jail.

TORONTO, May 27.—The Fenian raid at Pigeon Hill is looked on as a fizzle. The Fenians are retreating leaving arms, baggage and wounded behind. No loss of life on the Canadian side. Huntington is now the point of interest where every preparation has been made.

OTTAWA, May 26.—It is rumored that the government has received notification from the British government that Minister Thornton has been directed by the Secretary of Foreign Affairs to demand protection of the Canadian frontier by President Grant.

BOSTON, May 26.—The United States troops from Fort Warren left by special train last night for St. Albans.

NEW YORK, May 26.—It is represented that there are seven thousand Fenians at Malone preparing to move into Canada. Fourteen hundred left here by railroad to-day and one thousand more started to-night. General Gleason telegraphs from Washington all right. Men moving forward. We expect to fight.

BOSTON, May 26.—Recruits continue to depart. Their spirits are somewhat depressed.

PORTLAND, May 26.—The Fenian arms seized yesterday were restored to the Express Company and have vanished.

Miscellaneous.

RICHMOND, VA., May 26.—Municipal authorities are quiet. Ellison's friends claim his success is undoubted.

NEW YORK, May 26.—A monster festival similar to the Boston Peace Jubilee is proposed to come off in this city in June. The Empire Rink is to be filled up for the purpose. Distinguished vocalists and musicians from all parts of the States are expected.

The city of Mendoza, in South America, was nearly destroyed by an earthquake. The loss of life is not stated, but is less than might be expected.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.—United States Marshal Morris has appointed the Census Marshals for the counties as follows: Henry C. Tanman, late Postal Agent, for San Diego; James A. Gray, for Monterey; F. A. Packett, for Napa; William C. Goldsmith, for Lake; Jas. A. Ward, Well Butte; Pelix P. Hardwick, Stanislaus.

Quite an effort is being made to create an excitement over alleged silver discoveries in Alameda county, back of Fruit Valley. Five hundred pounds of ore has been sent here for a working test.

Bayard Taylor goes with the excursionists to the Monterey centennial celebration.

The income tax list for 1869, for San Francisco, now in the hands of the Collector, only foots up four hundred and seventy thousand dollars, or eighty thousand less than last year.

Gov. Safford, of Arizona, calls out all the able-bodied men in the Territory to serve against the Indians.

Julius Gomez, alias Williams, colored, who stabbed James Williams, yesterday afternoon on the steamer Pacific, was arrested last night, and a charge of assault with a deadly weapon preferred.

Several parties, including one contractor, have been arrested for dumping garbage and street sweepings on Jefferson Square.

John Bell, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was held for trial at the County Court. bail $1,000.

REVENUE REFORM, OR REPUDIATION.—There is not much difference in principle between the free-traders who are operating under the specious guise of revenue reform and the out-and-out repudiators. As the Government is situated, there can be no such issue as free trade for years to come. We have a heavy national debt, on which the interest must be paid, if we do not mean to repudiate. We cannot raise the necessary revenue to pay this interest without a tariff, and a tariff that does not discriminate in favor of American manufactures must discriminate in favor of foreign manufacturers. A tariff levied at a given per centage on all imports, without reference to their character or the condition of the market, would in many instances, be one of the most oppressive measures that any Government ever adopted. Even England, with her free trade palaver, would not venture upon such a course. Her tariff discriminates, and is levied so as to favor her own interests as a nation, and [illegible] interests of her citizens most effectually. We must, therefore, not only have a tariff, but a discriminating tariff—a protective tariff as well as a revenue tariff. Those who talk otherwise are [illegible] the interests of England and a [illegible] are repudiators of the first water, who would vote for "paying Greenbacks," or anybody else who would embarrass our finances and force repudiation upon the country. It matters not to us to which class they belong. Their works all tend to the same end, and their result is nothing but mischief, if they amount to anything at all. We must pay our debt. Before we do that, we must annually pay the interest on it. To do this, we must have a tariff, and a tariff to furnish the greatest amount of revenue and protect the least industries, must be discriminating and protective.—[illegible] Herald, May 3.

The Secretary of War has assigned Maj. J. S. Sends, of the regular army, a grandson of Gen. Worth, as teacher of military science in Kentucky University.

The manufacture of iron masts for vessels has commenced at Quebec, and the first vessel thus fitted out will be launched shortly.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

Further in Regard to Fenian Movements.

TORONTO, May 27.—The Fenian movement has virtually collapsed. The report that the Fenians had attacked the Canadian troops at Sault St. Marie is unreliable. There are sufficient troops at Malone and the Detroit frontier to repel invasion.

ROME, May 26.—One thousand eight hundred Fenians are expected here to-day bound north.

ST. ALBANS, May 26.—The Fenians have all returned from Franklin. Gen. Spear has been urging them to go to Malone, but the men generally say they have got enough of this kind of war. Government furnishes transportation to all desiring to go home. Large numbers avail themselves of this opportunity. Three companies of United States artillery arrived here from Boston. It is feared Gen. Donnelly is mortally wounded. The Deputy United States Marshal has seized abandoned arms and equipments in the name of the United States. The Canadians who fought the Fenians consisted of only one company of 60 or 70 volunteers.

OGDENSBURG, May 26.—The Fenians crossed the border this morning and occupied Huntington. Reports from Canada speak of fearful depression in all circles. There are rumors of the defeat of regulars and rifles. One hundred and seventy United States troops are here under command of Col. Davis.

MALONE, May 26.—The Fenians under Gens. Starr and Gleason crossed the line this morning, and encamped one mile beyond. They are armed with breech-loading guns. Trout River is the point of concentration. Two Fenians were wounded in attempting to pass the guards. An engagement will doubtless soon occur.

CHICAGO, May 26.—The excitement in Fenian circles here is on the increase, notwithstanding the disastrous reports.

George Francis Train arrived this noon and published a characteristic proclamation, addressing a large and excited crowd of Fenians at the Armory to-night. It is reported that 100 recruits left for the frontier to-day. The leaders claim to have received private information from Malone of an encouraging character.

CHICAGO, May 26.—The Journal's Washington dispatch says information was received by the Government to-day from different points on the Canadian border where the Fenians are operating to the effect that they are weak and the movement can only result in a ridiculous farce. The instructions of the Government are peremptory to arrest the leaders wherever found.

MALONE, May 27.—Gen. Gleason is strongly reinforced and his men now occupy a position four miles beyond the line. He is entrenched strongly and is confident of holding his position.

News is received that after the arrest of Gen. O'Neil, Gen. Spear was appointed Commander-in-Chief. Gen. Spear will either cross the Canadian border at some point heretofore not attempted or will reinforce Gleason. This statement is by authority.

MEMPHIS, May 28.—The Judicial election passed off quietly. The Democratic ticket is probably elected by a small majority.

LOUISVILLE, May 25.—Sixty Fenians, under Capt. O'Brien, left to-night for the East, unarmed and in citizens clothes. Over 500 enlisted to-day, but could not leave for want of transportation.

Miscellaneous

DETROIT, May 26.—By the late decision of the Supreme Court several millions of railroad bonds, voted by various counties and municipalities in the State, are declared illegal.

PITTSBURG, (Penn.) May 26.—The corner stone of the first German Masonic hall ever erected in the United States was laid to-day.

RICHMOND, May 26.—Ellison is chosen Mayor and the whole Conservative ticket is elected by a handsome majority. The Conservatives carried Norfolk by fifty majority.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 27.

W. H. Rulofson has been elected to represent the California photographers at the National Convention at Cleveland, Ohio, June 7th, and is instructed to urge the holding of the convention next year in San Francisco.

Advices from Santa Clara state that the crops between there and Redwood, have been much improved during the past ten days, and are looking quite well at the foot of the hills and on the low-lands near the Bay.

Col. W. J. Lewis, who has had control of the bulkhead or sea wall since the commencement of its construction, and who spent east a few days ago, resigned his position as engineer, and T. J. Arnold was elected by the Board of Harbor Commissioners to fill the vacancy. The work of the construction of the sea wall has been temporarily suspended for the want of funds, but a number of men, horses and carts, are at present employed in filling up the sunken portion of the embankment between Howard and Folsom streets, at which point, since the embankment was first brought to its proper level, it has sunk several times, and has each time been again filled up to the desired height. This settlement is confined to a space of about five hundred feet in length. Under the supervision of Mr. Arnold, the work has been again leveled off, or nearly so. The foundation is now sixty feet deep, and it is believed solid ground is obtained at last.

A CARNIVAL IN CUBA.—By far the gravest region of the city during a carnival is the Plaza de Armas, a spacious square, with wide promenades, gardens and trees, in a railed enclosure. Here are the Governor's house, the residences of Cuban Belgravia, the cafes and the cathedral. Myriads of masqueraders, in every variety of motley and domino, congregate in the plaza after their day's perambulations, and dance, sing or bewitch each other with their disguises. There is a party of masked and dominoed ladies—genuine whites all; you can tell it by the shape of their gloveless hands and the transparent pink of their finger nails—endeavoring to hoax a couple of swains in false noses and green spectacles, both of whom have already been recognized. The perplexed youths try their hardest to discover their fair interlocutors by peeping at their profiles through their wire masks, but in vain. At the next quiet tertulia these same ladies will have rare fun with their puzzled victims of the night of the masquerade. Refreshment stalls stand at intervals along the pavement of the plaza. Each table has a white tablecloth, and is dimly illuminated by candles sheltered from the wind by enormous stand-shades of glass, or lamps of portable gas. Leather bottomed chairs are placed invitingly around and charcoal braziers for warming drinks keep their respectful distances. Egg-flip, bottled ale, cafe noir, and a kind of soupe a la Julienne, called the natives ajiaco, are dispensed by negress vendors, who charge double for everything, and drive a roaring trade. Approaching one of the tables I called for a plate of ajiaco, and am perfectly understood by the dark divinity, who placed before me a pot-pourri of yams, green bananas, cut pumpkins, aguacates, chicken, and broth of the same. I do full justice to this rich and substantial repast, and, by way of dessert conclude with a very small cup of properly made cafe noir and a genuine Yara. I then betake myself to the nearest coffee house. After black coffee cometh what is termed plus cafe and this being an unlicensed spirit cannot be had in the street. The coffee saloon is well patronized, and the air of carnival is here very strong. Everybody and everything seem to follow the masquerade lead, the very furniture forming no exception to the rule, for the gas chandeliers are encased in fancy papers, the walls and pictures are adorned by tropical leaves and evergreens, the chairs are transformed into shapes of seated humanity, the marble slabs of the little round tables are partially disguised in robes of glass and crystal. As for the white jacketed proprietor and his myrmidons, including Rafael, the mixer of liquors, behind the counter, they all wear smiles or holiday faces, while they carefully conceal their natural sleepiness.—All the Year Round.

The Detroit Tribune says: "Emigration to Duluth had better cease for the present. The thing is overdone. Hundreds of mechanics are walking its streets unable to get work and without means to get away. The only alternative they have is to mount pick and shovel, and go to work on the railroad. There is an immense amount of talk about big things in the future in the way of rolling mills, factories, shops, etc., and any amount of corner lots for sale at prices ridiculously high, but when you come down to existing facts, there are nothing but 'great-expectations' visible to the naked eye."

Col. Chapman Again.

HE DEFINES HIS POSITION AND ANNOUNCES HIMSELF AN INDEPENDENT CANDIDATE FOR THE LEGISLATURE.

Col. Chapman publishes in the Commercial an "Open Letter to the Voters of Multnomah County." In the first part of the letter he goes after the Herald, which paper pronounced the speech that he delivered recently at the court house un-Democratic. He states that he has endeavored to have the Herald indicate what portion of his speech was not Democratic, but failed to get a reply. He believes, however, that that paper had reference to the views he expressed on the Chinese question. Discussing this subject, he says.

Years ago, when my attention was attracted to this subject, my remarks were treated with very little consideration, but events hurried on so rapidly as that by the last election it gave to the Democratic party the election in Multnomah. I took the position of State legislation upon the subject, and true to our pledge, I prepared and procured the passage of the "Chinese Bill." This was vetoed by the Governor, which led to a more thorough consideration and a lengthy discussion between the OREGONIAN and myself, and although my views were written in the interest of the Democratic party, the Herald, now a candidate for State Printer, refused their publication, and I was compelled to publish them in the Commercial, which then had a very limited circulation. I considered the Democratic party pledged to pass that bill over the Governor's veto; or, if they should not have the requisite two-thirds vote in the next Legislature, then to introduce and pass the bill anew.

In the meantime the California election having been carried mainly on this great question, their Legislature met, pledged to legislate upon this subject, but it soon became apparent that their pledges were but promises to the ear. Our own Convention was held, and although my speech made at Union Hill, embracing the resolution of the Labor Union upon this subject, was placed in the hands of some of the members of the Committee on Resolutions, all that was given us was a pledge to repeal the Burlingame Treaty.

Shortly after, the Republican Convention met, and I was curious to see what they would say. They pledged themselves against any alteration of the naturalization laws. I was not satisfied with either of the resolutions upon the Chinese question, and determined not to relinquish the right of the State to legislate. I finally consented that my name might be used as a candidate for the Legislature upon the condition that the Convention would commit the Democratic party to the passage of the China bill. This, with other propositions of a kindred nature, were laid upon the table, and, of course, my name was not presented for nomination. I listened to the speeches of our State Canvassers, and interrogated Judge Wait, and some others on the ticket, but I found them all willing only to propose a repeal of the Treaty, and to ignore my theory of State legislation against Chinese labor.

In a subsequent part of the letter the Colonel makes a keen thrust at those Democrats who are demagoguing on this subject and yet propose to do nothing:

It is apparent to everybody that our speakers discourse eloquently on the Chinese question, but what do they propose to do? Nothing—simply nothing. Such men are no better than a host of doctors persisting in their visits; telling the patient he is very sick—very sick indeed, a fact which he very well knows and feels; yet they propose no remedy.

The California Legislature which was elected on this issue did nothing, and now the Democratic candidates for the Legislature in Oregon propose nothing. Their proposition to repeal the treaty with China the Colonel calls "impracticable nonsense." Reviewing the speech he delivered at the Court House, he says:

Chinese labor is the point of attack. It is for that that they flock in unceasing swarms upon our shores. Touch it, and they recoil to China as the lengthened snail recoils to his shell. I said that neither of the parties proposed any remedy in this direction. I said of the Democrats in the Legislature of California, elected upon their pledges upon this question, that they had perfidiously abandoned the Labor interest, and that this Democratic party in California ought to be, and it would be beat for it in the next campaign.

I said of the Democratic leaders in Oregon that they had ingloriously fled from the sacred cause of Labor upon this question, and that, unless they did come forward and solemnly and unequivocally pledge themselves to the passage of the China bill, that I would not vote at the next election, and that I believe there were five hundred more who would do likewise.

If my remarks were not Democratic, then there is no vitality in the question, and it should be withdrawn from political discussion.

Since making these remarks, I again interrogated Judge Wait upon this question, in the presence of Joseph Ralston. He stated, substantially, that it was a subject of National Legislation. Mr. Ralston said Mr. Grover took the same position at Oregon City—stating that there was some surprise manifested about it. I find in the remarks attributed to Mr. Harding, at Waconda, a Democratic candidate for State Senator, that he goes even further than the Republican party in favor of the Chinese.

The upshot of all this is that the Colonel thinks that the Democratic party of Oregon, under its present leaders, is not sound on this question. He concludes his letter thus:

Then, upon consideration, determined to give the opponents of Chinese Immigration and Citizenship, an opportunity of casting their votes for their tried friend, I submit my name as a candidate for Representative in the State Legislature.

This letter is a pretty sharp arraignment of the Democratic party for its failure to fulfill its pledges on this subject. It fully justifies the assaults which the Republicans have made upon the leaders of that party for playing the demagogue about the Chinese for selfish purposes only.

Laws Relating to Elections.

OREGON CITY, May 25, 1870.

ED. OREGONIAN:

One important matter was omitted in your valuable summary of the election laws, published a day or two since.

A very general impression prevails that if a person offering to vote, is willing to take the oath prescribed in the Statute, or in other words, "swear his vote in," the Judges are obliged to take his vote, without further investigation. But this is not the end of the matter. Section 14 of the General Election Law, page 700 of Deady's Code, provides that the Judges may still reject the vote, if there is other evidence satisfying them it ought not to be received.

I desire also to call attention to Section 23, on page 702 of the Code, which provides that after a vote is received, it may still be challenged at any time before the final count of the votes, and upon proper proof may be stricken out or erased from the poll books. Such a vote, however, ought to be entered in the list of rejected voters according to Sec. 18, page 701.

Corruption Money

Every now and then the opposition organs come out with statements of the most startling character relative to the alleged corrupt use of money by the Republicans to carry the election According to their showing the Radicals of Oregon are the richest set of fellows ever known They have barrels and barrels of money and the United States mints have nothing to do but to make more for them Just now the organs are ablaze with astounding revelations about the Radical corruption fund in Polk county The very magnitude of the story shows what astonishing things human invention is capable of The person who reads it over must close the entertainment with an explosive guffaw One individual who thought that while he was about it he might just as well fabricate a story which would outdo all competition and so far distance all other makers and mongers of affidavits as to cause them to quit the business in disgust swears that the Republicans have placed fifteen thousand dollars in Polk county to carry the ticket there, and that this money is distributed among a number of the principal Republicans of the county to be used as opportunity offers! Names are given and particulars are related, and we have in the story all the features of a first class lie with circumstances

It is not the fault of the author of these statements if they are not believed he has nothing to do with that It was simply his business to get up an affidavit that would make all his rivals in that line hide their diminished heads A long editorial full of exclamatory sentences and paragraphs is published in the organ in which the productions of this individual who has such a genius for affidavits appears, and in this editorial it is charged that the will of the people is to be "bought out' by the agents of the "Radical corruption fund,' —which assertion, we take it, means that the incorruptible Democracy are about to sell their votes by scores and hundreds. It is evident from the noise they are making about it that they are exceedingly anxious to be corrupted The history of the origin of these affidavits that so frequently appear is about this Democrats who want a "piece' go to Republicans and offer to sell out The latter refuse to buy and then out comes a sworn statement to the effect that a villainous Radical with his pockets full of money had tried to corrupt an unpurchasable Democrat who spurned with indignation the vile, molten coin! In this way the Democratic papers are kept full of entertaining reading matter, and the hopes of that class of Democrats who are "on the sell,' are kept up to the highest pitch But this thing cannot go on much longer. These gentlemen who, it is so evident, have itching palms, will soon meet with a bitter disappointment in the discovery that the Republicans have no money, and no desire to corrupt them As for that fabulous fifteen thousand dollars said to be stowed away up in Polk county, we have only to observe that if it were really there and were used as it might be, the Democratic vote of the county would be exceedingly light. Fifteen thousand dollars would export about all the Democrats in Polk county, including Ben Hayden, and would, besides, buy up all the newspaper organs that are pretending to make these wonderful disclosures.

Rural Repose

Day by day the Herald advances with its anti-tariff arguments, and has now got to the point of "babbling o' green fields Its article of yesterday was in a style of sweet rural simplicity. The writer evidently had before him a picture of lawns and level downs and palmy hillocks, where flocks were grazing the tender herb, before his vision the flowery lap of some irriguous valley spread its store, and the delightful smell of the freshly turned globe, rising like an exhalation, filled his nostrils with delight If it were not so how could we account for such an argument as this.

> If this should eventually become a nation of farmers through the operation of free trade principles it would be the most virtuous, prosperous and happy of all the peoples of the earth There is something about the pursuit of agriculture which elevates and purifies those who are engaged in it. The farmer is essentially a child drawing his sustenance directly from the bosom of Mother Earth. Hence all his tastes and passions and habits are simple and child like. Life with him is a peaceful, stilly gliding river, and is not the fierce turbid current which makes up the existence of the denizens of cities The agricultural period in the history of every country which has passed through such a period has always been the time of its greatest purity and freedom from all social ills, and of its highest happiness * * * Such being the case, if, as Mr Garfielde says we shall become a nation of farmers under the free trade system, we confess that we see in that prospect no occasion for alarm

We almost fear that before such a picture as this Virgil's Georgics must pale their ineffectual fires Away with all the materials and implements of manufacturing industry away with steam engines and railways and cotton mills and iron furnaces and all the ten thousand unnatural employments in which men engage in this degenerate age! That sweet angelic being, known as the average man of the nineteenth century, can only fulfill his destiny by raising wheat or corn and cracking it in a mortar (for of course in our Arcadia we want no millwrights), and eating hoe cake, baked in the ashes, in the sweet blissful quietude of his own rustic home

It appears that it is a common error of these modern times to suppose that a diversified industry is necessary to the prosperity of a country and the happiness of a people According to the authority quoted above we want no woolen mills or iron furnaces or shoe manufactories in this our favored land It is our interest to leave these degrading and corrupting industries wholly to others and for our part engage exclusively in the employment of tilling the soil. We would then be entirely virtuous and happy It is true we would have no market for our agricultural products and no way of getting them to a market if there were one but then we would be "elevated and purified" we would be sweet, unspoiled children of nature and leave toiling and moiling in shops and factories to people less favored than ourselves Our tastes would soon grow as simple and child like as those of the noble sons of the plain and forest who occupied this country before us Away by all means with manufactures and let us have free trade and that healthy state of nature of which some philosophers have dreamed

New Naturalization Law

The Senate Judiciary Committee to whom was referred the various projects for amending the naturalization laws including Sumner's bill to strike out the word white from said laws have considered the subject and reported as the following telegram explains

WASHINGTON, May 20 1870

EDITOR OREGONIAN

The Senate Judiciary Committee have reported the Naturalization Bill without changes as to the [illegible] naturalization of Chinamen are not included and have unanimously declared that any State may exclude persons from suffrage on the ground of nativity

H WILLIAMS

This disposes of the assertion that the Republicans in Congress intend to strike out the word white so as to allow the Chinese in this country to become citizens first and then make them voters To give a further guarantee it is declared that any State may exclude persons from suffrage on ground of nativity that is that it may exclude persons born in China This clause was inserted with special reference to the Chinese in America for of course no State would exclude from the suffrage any persons of the white race born in other countries This bill, reported by the Judiciary Committee of the Senate, with a view of excluding Chinese from citizenship and suffrage, is precisely in accord with the Republican platform of Oregon and shows how a Republican Congress proposes to deal with this subject

A Few Things for Our Foreign born Citizens to Think of

Gov Salomon in his speech the other night at the Court House addressing himself to the German Americans present gave some good reasons why his countrymen should support the Republican policy of this country as against the Democratic policy and party These reasons in the main, are as strong in their application to our foreign born citizens of all countries as to the Germans He said that in all countries where the people are divided into two parties, one of them is a conservative anti progressive party leaning toward the philosophy and policies upon which despotism and aristocracy lean while the other party is one of liberalism progress freedom It is so in America and so in Europe. In Germany, for instance, the rulers and the aristocracy, both of titles and wealth form the conservative, anti progressive party which opposes liberalism, progress, innovation, liberty and intelligence. Opposed to them are the masses of the people who long for and struggle for these latter things but who are helpless to achieve them In Germany the people who oppose despotism and struggle for liberty and the elevation of the masses are technically called Democrats The name Democrat is, therefore, talismanic among them It is from this class of people that nearly all German immigrants come They come here to realize in the institutions of America that of which they could only dream in Germany—personal liberty, liberty to think, speak and act liberty to acquire property liberty to rise in the social scale and be the social and political equal of the highest in the land. Arriving upon our shores, many of them, unacquainted in general terms, with our institutions, finding a party calling itself Democratic, naturally fall in with it without any particular thought as to its merits or demerits as compared with the other party But the fact is and always has been that the Democratic party of the United States is the one which most nearly resembles the aristocratic, despotic party of Germany and of all other European governments It is the party which propagated and upheld human slavery and to preserve which relic of barbarism and despotic aristocracy plunged the country into a revolution in which tens of thousands of loyal Germans and loyal Irishmen lost their lives The Republican party has always been and is now the party of liberal views, of progress, of liberty and justice. It has extirpated human slavery and broken down the last vestage of that pernicious aristocracy which the Democratic party had brought from the old world and engrafted into the American system of government. The Republican party has destroyed the idea of serfdom—that false idea that one man may be the master of another—and has made all men equal before the law This is the condition of society which the German came here to find It is the condition which all Europeans came here to find

Aside from these reasons why all foreign born citizens should find their natural place in the Republican party there are others The Republican party gave to the European immigrant, the improvements in the naturalization laws which make American citizenship so much easier of attainment now than formerly The Republican party gave the homestead law (in opposition to the Democratic party in Congress, too) which has enabled so many hundreds of thousands of his countrymen to enter upon the public domain and with only his brawny arm and stout heart to hew out for himself a farm, a home and independence. The Republican party is the party which favors internal improvements by national aid—the building of railroads improvement of rivers and the development of all the diversified resources and interests of the country Opposed to all these ideas and policies stands the Democratic party, clinging to the conservatism and aristocratic ideas which in Germany made oppressions too heavy to be borne and which annually drives hundreds of thousands of honest and liberty-loving Germans from the Faderland. All these things being patent to all who would study American history and American institutions and parties he could not help feeling surprised that any foreign born citizen should connect himself with the Democratic party He believed the events of the war and the developments of the last few years, being brought more directly home to the appreciation of Germans, especially, in the Atlantic States, account for the fact that a German Democrat is almost unknown out of New York and a few other large cities And he believed the time would come when through the wise and beneficent policy of the Republican party the improvement and development of the Pacific States would bring every German to its support

To Our German Citizens

Gov E S Salomon of Washington Territory will deliver a speech in German this evening at the Court House As he announced the other evening he will present the various reasons as he views things why all Germans should support the Republican party in the United States The Governor is an entertaining speaker and all those whose mother tongue is the German will have to night an excellent opportunity to hear a sensible practical and able speech in the language of the Faderland

The Statesman tells of a man named Hural whom the Democrats of Yamhill bought They paid him $40 to leave the county and promise to vote the Democratic State ticket. He then went to French Prairie and stole a gun and went to Corvallis where he stole a horse and was arrested tried convicted and sentenced, at Roseburg to the State Penitentiary for three years where he now is They bought him on the 5th he stole the gun on the 7th stole the horse on the 9th was arrested and tried the same week and two weeks after the Democracy bought him up he was wearing the brick yard uniform in the penitentiary

CITY.

IMPORTANT DECISION.—The Advocate is in possession of a pamphlet containing the decision in the case of Holmes vs. Holmes, a suit in equity, before Hon. M. P. Deady, U. S. Circuit Judge for the District of Oregon, to set aside deed and for assignment of dower. That paper says "Without deeming it necessary to take any notice of the [illegible] constituting the history of the case, it is sufficient for our purpose to say that the main question involved, and upon which the whole case [illegible], was whether there had ever been a marriage [illegible] between the late Thomas J. [illegible] the complainant, styling herself Glor[illegible] Holmes. The decision made in the case is one of paramount importance, and on that account we shall briefly present the leading features. [illegible] that a marriage, in order to be valid, must be contracted or celebrated according to the laws of the land, which in this State requires that before any person can be joined in marriage they shall procure and produce a license from the County Clerk * * * * directed to [illegible], etc., authorised by the statute (Oregon [illegible]) to solemnize marriage, and authorizing [illegible] to join together the persons therein named as husband and wife. That in the [illegible] of marriage, the relation of husband and wife cannot be created unless the parties to the proposed alliance shall assent or declare in the presence of the minister, priest, or [illegible] solemnizing the same, and in the presence of at least two attending witnesses, that they take each other for husband and wife. And [illegible] further decides that all marriages celebrated at sea, or within the jurisdiction of another [illegible] persons leaving this State for that purpose [illegible] evasion of the laws of [illegible] and therefore null and void. The [illegible] attached to this case grows out of the fact that many parties have in former years evaded the State laws by resorting to Vancouver [illegible] or to Yaquina Bay, or other points [illegible], or by going out to sea over three miles, thus [illegible] themselves beyond the jurisdiction of the State law, and at liberty to enact a [illegible] which could not be done at [illegible]

[illegible] THE SENTINEL.—The Sentinel for [illegible] has a letter forty-eight days from Rome.

[illegible] of the St. Vincent de Paul Society [illegible] requested to be present at their regular meeting to-morrow evening, as business of importance will be transacted.

[illegible] private letter from Canyon City, we [illegible] Rev. Father L. Dielman on his arrival lately from Camps Harney and Warner, [illegible] by his parishioners in that [illegible] splendid gold watch, worth $250, [illegible] gold-headed cane, as a testimonial of [illegible] of his services in his mission. We are glad to see such esteem [illegible] to their pastor by the people of [illegible]. It tells volumes in his praise.

[illegible] Library and Christian Doctrine [illegible] making grand preparations for an excursion [illegible] to come off, as already mentioned, on Monday. This Society, whose [illegible] particularly charged with the instruction of children in their Christian duties, [illegible] arrange the excursion not so [illegible] pleasure and benefit, but solely [illegible] children under their charge an occasion of [illegible] and pleasure. As a commodious [illegible] band of music, also all kinds [illegible] provided for, it will be found [illegible] wanting to make it one of the [illegible] of the season. All parties [illegible] tickets for this occasion are [illegible] badges, which they will receive [illegible] Rooms, adjoining the Catholic [illegible] morning, and without which [illegible] to go!

[illegible] THE ADVOCATE.—The Advocate for [illegible] the following:

"[illegible] a deer entered our office and [illegible] the entire building without dis[illegible]."

[illegible], son of W. S. Ladd, Esq., [illegible] quite low with typhoid [illegible] friends in the day [illegible] school will rejoice to learn [illegible] rapidly recovering.

[illegible] meeting held in this city on [illegible] pastors of the several congregations [illegible] agreed to commence the Sab[illegible] at their several churches in [illegible], at a quarter before [illegible]

[illegible] youngest son of Wm. Masters, [illegible] horse on the 20th inst., [illegible] residence, and broke both [illegible]. He was carried home [illegible] Dr. Watkins, assisted by Dr. [illegible] the fractured bones, and Master [illegible]

[illegible] much interest manifested for [illegible] among the students of the Portland [illegible] and Female Seminary, over a spelling [illegible] for Friday afternoon. The [illegible] Society offered three beautiful [illegible] to the three most successful [illegible]

[illegible] SALES TO-DAY.—We are reminded [illegible] 10 o'clock, at the Auction and [illegible] of Mr. A. B. Richardson, the [illegible] property of Mr. Geo. T. Myers, on [illegible] the public place, near the Court [illegible] to the highest bidder. [illegible] of 100 feet square on block [illegible] house occupies the east half, all [illegible] and cold water. The house has [illegible] nine rooms in it, and all hard [illegible] is a fine business location. [illegible] will also sell one lot in block [illegible], corner of 12th and F [illegible] blocks eligibly situated [illegible] the following and reflect [illegible] Portland: "The Hon. Chas. [illegible] city from the Illinois Legislature [illegible] the first plat of Chicago, forty [illegible] still practicing law in Grant [illegible]. It is amazing to reflect upon [illegible] of the city which he then [illegible]. The first lots were sold chiefly to [illegible] of Fort Dearborn, near the [illegible], and brought from five to [illegible] each. History furnishes no [illegible] springing into existence [illegible] in forty years."

[illegible].—The swallows having selected [illegible] Engine House on Washington [illegible], as a place everyway suitable to rear a [illegible], began their operations [illegible], and after partly building their [illegible] down by the steward of the [illegible]. The place suited them so well, [illegible] would not yield their claims to [illegible] to the hose of the company [illegible] and a stream of water applied [illegible] at the corner of First street. [illegible] pretty effectually made at that time, [illegible] they resumed operations again, [illegible] front of the building plastered over [illegible], until yesterday morning, when [illegible] was made to reduce their [illegible]. An hour or so after this [illegible] held a mass meeting on the [illegible] the building, and were evidently very [illegible] for the most part of the afternoon, [illegible] the premises entirely, and by four [illegible] not a swallow was to be seen. [illegible] they intend to give up the contest, or [illegible] with reinforcements is a matter to [illegible]

[illegible].—The following music has [illegible] for the Plaza Concert this evening [illegible] the 23d Infantry Band:

[illegible] from Nabuco.—Rossini.
[illegible] Polka.
[illegible], from I'Masnadieri; "Amalia lo [illegible]
[illegible] from Belle Helene.—Offenbach.
[illegible] of Mattadores, in La Traviata.
[illegible] Shoo, Fly, Don't Bodder Me!
[illegible] Song, We Parted by the River Side.
[illegible] Express Gallop.

[illegible] JURORS.—The following is the list of [illegible] drawn for the June term of the Circuit Court: John Gilman, Daniel Duchar, Franz [illegible], James Wilson, H. C. Northrop, Wm. [illegible], Daniel Holton, Wm. Swihler, H. [illegible], Jacob Johnson, J. S. Dickinson, Solomon [illegible], Joseph Teal, D. C. Lewis, E. P. [illegible], Benjamin Sunderland, I. S. Weatherford [illegible] Barrett.

[illegible].—Owing to the absence of the pastor [illegible] services at the Unitarian [illegible]. The Sabbath school will [illegible] usual hour, 12½ o'clock P. M. [illegible] sermon preached at the Baptist [illegible] evening on the following topic: [illegible]; and how to do it. Seats [illegible]

LOCAL REVIEW.—A large number of the friends of Father William Taylor, were in attendance at his funeral yesterday, 11 miles east of this city.

Dr. T. J. Sloan addressed the Republican Club last evening.

Six applications were made at the Labor Exchange yesterday.

Hon. Allan Francis, United States Consul at Victoria, is at present in this city.

The Fannie Troup was at the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf yesterday at 3 o'clock P. M.

The Steilacoom Turbine Wheel, cast at the Willamette Iron Works is now ready for shipment.

There were two more of the fluted iron columns for Allen & Lewis' buildings cast yesterday at the Willamette Iron Works.

The climate here at noon yesterday was favorable to linen—and at the time (the old fashioned 6 P. M.) umbrellas were in demand.

The Columbia river is again "on a high," six inches at Wallula, and 14 at the Dalles, and still rising at Umatilla, was the report yesterday.

"What is it that sticketh closer than a brother?" said a Sunday school teacher to one of his class. "A postage stamp—by gum," said the incorrigible.

The new book, entitled "Ten Years in Wall Street," has been liberally subscribed for in some portions of this city. Every business man should have a copy.

R. G. Sneath is furnishing a splendid article of salmon "bellies," in kits to families of parties desiring an extra article to send to their friends in the Atlantic States.

A prisoner arrived in shackles by the Cascade on Thursday evening. He was in charge of Sheriff John Brattain, of Baker City, and was taken on to Salem yesterday.

John Savage, the Fenian Chief, is visiting the Geysers, Calistoga, and vicinity, on a pleasure trip, and on his return, will commence the delivery of a series of popular lectures.

Gov. Salomon and party, visited Vancouver yesterday, returning in the evening by the Cascade. The Governor will speak in the German language this evening at the Court House.

The railroads at the West have been indifferent about the baggage of their patrons. In Iowa passengers are now allowed $3 a day for every day's unreasonable delay of their trunks.

It is reported that the Parisian demi monde are about to inaugurate a change in their customes. They will adopt a most rigid style of dress—high necks, no lace or diamonds, and no other ornaments than flowers. They say they must distinguish themselves in some way from respectable women, and this revolution is their only resort.

Mr. Elijah Corbett and wife arrived in this city on Thursday evening overland from California by stage. Mr. Corbett is one of the proprietors and business manager of the Oregon and California stage line, and we believe there is not a better conducted line of stages on the continent, or a more pleasant trip than over this route at this season of the year.

The San Francisco Board of Education have given a blow at marriage, by offering a resolution declaring that lady teachers who married should thereby forfeit their position. We are at a loss to comprehend the meaning of this strange proposition. Has sacerdotal celibacy been productive of such beneficial results that it is worth while to try educational celibacy? Or is it imagined that marriage in any way disqualifies a woman from teaching? Of course such a resolution would have no effect in preventing the marriage of lady teachers, but it is unfair and ridiculous upon its face, and therefore should be consigned to the waste basket.

FLAGS UP.—The flags were up yesterday at the Fenian Brotherhood headquarters, perhaps in honor of the events now transpiring on the border between Canada and the American States. The Stars and Stripes were also floating in the breeze from the mast head at the house of Engine Company No. 2; at the Washington Guard Armory, and at Department Headquarters. The first and second of these tokened company drill last evening—the latter was the customary every day event.

STRAWBERRIES.—We have never seen finer strawberries from the cultivated vines, in market, than are to be seen this season. The vines are prolific in their bearing, and the market is only about one-tenth part supplied, which causes the price to be high—from forty-five to sixty cents per pound. We have seen one pound and a half picked from a single hill. At this rate the business of raising strawberries is one of very considerable profit.

FIREMEN'S RELIEF.—The firemen of this city interested in the organization of a society for the relief of the members of the Department, are requested to meet at the Council Chamber on Monday evening next, at 8 o'clock for the purpose of perfecting the proposed organization. From the number of names and the character of the gentlemen engaging, we have no doubt but that the movement is certain to succeed.

QUICK WORK.—The firemen of No. 2 call the new invention affixed to their steamer "Halleck's Last Trick." It seems to work to good advantage. The fire was lighted under the boiler last evening as the engine left the house on drill, and in exactly three minutes and seven seconds water was streaming through 150 feet of hose from the Stark street cistern.

REAL ESTATE.—We invite attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Parrish & Atkinson, new to-day. The sales of property by this firm, thus far in May, amount to the sum of $20,000, and their books show about $13,000 more, which may likely be closed this month.

SPEAKING AT ST. JOHNS TO-DAY.—The candidates for the Legislature, of both parties, and others, go by steamer chartered for that purpose to St. Johns precinct this morning at 10 o'clock. The boat will leave the American Exchange wharf.

THE EXCURSION TO-MORROW.—We learn that the Portland Turn Verein has extended an invitation to Gov. Salomon and suite for their excursion, to be held to-morrow.

McFarland's Denunciation of the Wife whom he is Determined to Recover to his Bed.

NEW YORK, May 11.

The reporter of a morning paper has just had an interview with McFarland, in regard to the affidavit and statement of Mrs. Richardson, published this morning. McFarland said: "It's one huge lie, sir, from beginning to end. My wife never wrote a word of it. She has a perfect knowledge of my conduct toward her from first to last. Why does she swear only according to her belief? It's a d—d fabrication by Mrs. Calhoun, furbished up by Henri Browne. I know it's childishly written, but Brown is a childish writer, and, bad as it is, it is better than Abbie could write."

Reporter—Still, Mr. McFarland, its statements are very clear and very positive.

McFarland—Clear falsehoods; positive lies. It's a libel from first to last. I'll sue the paper that published it, and any paper that dares to copy it. I will sue any man that dares to quote it. Why didn't they prove this constant drunkenness on the trial? Did not all my associates in the enrollment office, except one that I discharged for being a d—d rebel, swear that I was a sober man, and didn't he have his expenses and extras guaranteed to him on the back of the very subpoena that made him a purchased witness?

Reporter—Mr. McFarland, I am not arguing the truth or falsehood of Mrs. McFarland's affidavit.

McFarland (excitedly)—I tell you it is not her affidavit. She may have sworn to it, but she never could have written it. It's Brown's affidavit; it's Mrs. Calhoun's affidavit; it's Mrs Sinclair's affidavit; it's the affidavit of that d—d free-love crowd; it's not my wife's affidavit. How she could ever be led, even now, to sign her name to such a parcel of d—d lies, when she knew her letter protesting such love and affection for me had been proved in open Court, is more than I can understand. Why, sir, anybody could write such a thing as that after the trial to fit the case. Why didn't she prove it on the trial? They paid a counsel to whitewash the crowd and hang me. Why didn't they prove it then? Wait till you see the affidavits in the habeas corpus case. Wait till you see the hellish part they got Schuyler Colfax to play in taking my wife away from me and getting her divorce. Why had I no notice of her application for a divorce? I wrote to everybody in Indiana to find out if she had applied for one, and the answer was always No.

Reporter—But, Mr. McFarland, this affidavit states that you struck her.

McFarland—It's a lie, sir, it's a lie; I never did read her letter to me and then see if she could ever have written such a letter to a man who had so brutally used her. Why, sir, if I had been given to such paroxysms as she talks about, they never could have passed unnoticed in any boarding-house. I saw you in the Court several times. You saw the people from the houses we boarded in. Did their appearance or manner denote anything but respectability? People who dress in silk and velvet don't live in squalid houses. I tell you the whole thing is a fabrication on the face of it. What did Abbie know about Sydney or Bayard? Yet look what they make her write about Richardson "The age of Sydney or of Bayard should claim him as its own." A pretty Bayard, surely, that Mr. Richardson, who spent his nights eavesdropping at a partition crack to hear the private communings of a man and wife! They make her say in that affidavit that all the letters that Richardson wrote to her were written by a stenographer. Was that intercepted letter, which was read in Court, stating that Richardson wanted to fold my wife in his arms, written by a stenographer, and was it posted unsealed? She says I fought her for my children. I suppose it was the act of a brute for a father to want his own children, and prefer to take care of them himself rather than have the seducer of his wife rear them up in free-love doctrines, spiritualism, and all the other Tribune morality. If that was being a brute, then half the fathers in the country are brutes, too. I tell you I have gone through enough of mental suffering and agony of spirit in the last three years to set a Shakspeare crazy. Richardson says in one of his letters (if it is he) that he was afraid I would shoot. If he had done nothing to provoke, how came he to be afraid of me? Wait a little. All the proofs in this case have not been seen yet. I tell you, no other man that ever lived, went through half the suffering I have had to endure.

Help for the Miserable.

No wonder that the face of the dyspeptic has a dragged, worn, hopeless expression that is pitiful to see. No wonder that the miserable martyr to indigestion is fretful, irritable and unsocial. Whoever can bear the pangs of this tormenting complaint cheerfully, and with an unruffled temper, is little short of a saint. But why should human fortitude continue to be thus severely tried, when an absolute specific for the disease is always at hand. Everywhere within the limits of civilization in this hemisphere Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is obtainable, and the history of the first case of dyspepsia in which it has been administered in vain has yet to be written. The sickness at the stomach, the sense of weakness and stupor, the feeling of emptiness and hollowness before eating, and of oppression afterwards, the fluttering of the pulse, the intense nervous irritation, the morbid indisposition to exertion, the weariness of life and indifference to its pleasures, which are among the symptoms of the disease in its chronic form are rapidly ameliorated by the tonic operation of this palatable vegetable restorative which seems to renovate and quicken all the dormant forces of the system, and rouse the mind from the apathy and gloom inseparable from a derangement of the digestive and secretive functions. In ordinary cases a few weeks suffices to complete the cure, but when the disease is complicated, as it often is, with torpidity of the liver, severe constipation, impurity of the blood, and a sluggish circulation, a longer time may be required. Persevere however, and the result is certain. An encouraging improvement will be perceptible from day to day, and the convalescent, knowing and feeling that he or she is on the high road to health, will await the happy issue with comparative patience.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

Modern Superstitions

[illegible] translates from a [illegible] journal an interesting paper on his subject, from which we take a few paragraphs.

A few [illegible] will illustrate [illegible] and [illegible] ty things are [illegible] the simplest investigation res[illegible] of them is related [illegible] Malo in France where the [illegible] death took place [illegible] water s falling [illegible] ferred to put this remark [illegible] the proof but it was [illegible] length the [illegible] convince themselves then neither [illegible] the truth of his singular fact—[illegible] that people died during the water's rise as well as during its fall, and that for a hundred years according to the parish registers [illegible] ebb nor flow had anywise affected the mortality.

It is a well known assertion that a [illegible] filled with water does not increase [illegible] weight if a live fish is put into it. King [illegible] England being desirous to learn the [illegible] of so extraordinary a phenomenon requested an explanation from the learned men of the country. This occasioned several very profound dissertations in which all sorts of strange hypotheses were advanced. Only one trying the experiment before delivering an opinion and lo! he discovered the vessel's weight to be increased by exactly the weight of the fish.

But what of that mysterious disease somnambulism? Can it be disputed that the moon causes somnambulists to walk in their sleep? I answer, no! but let us see how the moon acts in order to convince ourselves that it has no wish to fraternize with mysticism. It may be assumed that street walking is an abnormally vivid state of dreaming not only of the reproductive but also of the volitive faculty. Now it is established that such vivid dreams are promoted by everything causing unquiet sleep, e. g. a heavy supper, stimulating drinks and other causes. It is a fact which has been frequently observed that, owing to these influences, somnambulists, or sleep-walkers, often made their preambulations at times when moonlight is not marked in the almanac, and we all know that there are many persons, quite healthy too, who cannot sleep at all, or only badly, when a light is burning in their bed-rooms, by reason of being unused to it. Precisely the same influence is exercised by the moon's light on persons inclined to somnambulism. Hence some have hit upon the excellent idea to prevent the moonlight from entering the somnambulist's sleeping room by means of shutters or thick curtains and behold! the somnambulist remained quietly in his bed, not troubling himself about the full moon that shone brightly outside. The experiment was then reversed and, at a time when there was no moonlight, a brightly burning candle having been brought into the somnambulist's chamber, he was seen to walk in his sleep as though the finest full moon were ruling the sky.

As has already been said, things are the more readily believed the more they tickle the fancy, and hence it is no sufficient reason to regard a thing as true because it has been accepted for years or even centuries. Unprejudiced observation must decide and it is proved by thousands of cases that the condition of the intestinal tube and the effect of vermifuges is precisely the same at the increasing as at the waning moon. If, therefore, there are physicians who to this day administer a vermifuge during the moon's wane the consoling assurance is theirs that its action will be the same as if administered during the moon's increase. The belief in a special lunar influence upon the growth of plants results from very defective observation and is altogether unfounded. It is said, for instance, that wood cut during the moon's increase rots faster than that felled during the moon's wane, but at no time and nowhere has this assertion ever been tested by a single and soundly made experiment. One person echoes this absurdity after the other, yet it has never entered anybody's head to fell two trees, equally sound and of the same kind to keep them under the like circumstances and then to watch the changes. The same remarks are applicable to the assertion that certain plants thrive only when planted during the waning moon, while the contrary is the case with others. We all know that not everything which is planted, or sown, thrives nevertheless these people are very careful in noting every instance where a plant, put into the ground at the wrong time of the moon, did not thrive, as a new confirmation to their rule; the instances, however, where a plant planted at the right time, did not thrive are attributed to the weather!

And the weather! Does not experience teach us that the moon surely has an important influence on the weather but not even any which is in the least demonstrable and if experience be appealed to, I reply that it is that very experience which contradicts the opinion of the moon's weather-making. I do not, it is true, mean that experience which is gained by the individual and experienced observer, who occasionally notes when rainy weather happens to set in about the time of the new moon, or fair weather at the moon's full but that experience which is acquired in observatories and at meteorological stations, where the general nature of the weather, the state of the barometer, the direction of the wind, and the degree of moisture in the atmosphere, are recorded twice or three times everyday. Now the tables at Munich Observatories, kept for more than forty years and with the greatest care, informs us that on the days of the full moon or of the new moon, and of the two quarters, respectively, the weather does not change more often, or more rarely than on any other day. Only such experience is entitled to consideration.

The moon's physical influence upon our planet is in common life very greatly overrated. This influence, according to the known laws of physics, can be exerted in only three ways; by the moon's attraction, by the reflected light of the sun which it sends to the earth, and by the emission of heat. The moon's attractive power is sixty times less than the earth's, dwindles into a mere nothing for objects on the earth's surface as, owing to the distance of fifty-two thousand miles it is greatly preponderated by the earth's attraction, so that its action may indeed be calculated, but on account of its extreme smallness, cannot be an object of perception. If, when the moon is overhead, we send a soap bubble or feather into the air, we shall not be able to perceive the moon exerting the least attraction. But how is it with the phenomena of the tides? They depend as is known, on the sun's and moon's attraction and the moon much smaller but much nearer attracting by a third more strongly than the sun! The elevation caused by this combined attraction contains about one hundred cubic miles of water—a mass which in round numbers, weighs the trifle of one thousand billion hundred weights. But it would be a grievous error to suppose that this enormous weight is raised by the moon in the same manner that a man lifts a hundred weight or a magnet attracts a nail. Looking at the glassy surface of an inland lake and [illegible] it is never so large when the moon is [illegible] not the slightest rise of the tide will be marked. The conditions upon which high water is dependent are furnished by the extraordinary facility with which small particles of water are displaced and by that vast body of water called the Pacific Ocean extending over more than one quarter of the globe. Other causes co-operate, which to explain would lead me beyond my design. An explanation of the whole may be found in any good physical geography.

To confirm the belief in a lunar influence upon the weather it has been asserted that the moon must act on the ocean of air, the atmosphere—in the same manner that it acts on the ocean of water, producing a kind of ebb and flow. Theoretically this had long been assumed but it required the nicest observations of years upon the most delicately constructed barometers before philosophers succeeded in proving certain very minute fluctuations due to the action of the moon. Yet what are these fluctuations against those of the barometer in our latitudes often amounting to several lines at a time and whose immediate cause is the differences in heat to be referred consequently to the sun? Hence we find no reason here either, to ascribe to the moon any influence upon the weather.

The Rampant Editors

[illegible]

I [illegible] to [illegible] the leading questions of the day, I have made arrangements to receive semi-daily news from all points in the country where the [illegible] They were all that [illegible]

New York [illegible]

[illegible] Dana's friends are [illegible] he will [illegible] as soon as he wakes up in the morning.

Later—Dana has call[ed] [illegible] and nothing on earth [illegible] two glasses [illegible] will [illegible] the bre[illegible] glass.

New York [illegible]

"Greeley was caught with a butcher knife in [illegible] leg a few minutes ago. It is [illegible] that he was going to assassinate [illegible] of the Times. He talked incoherent about strawberry plants and what he knew about farming but seemed otherwise as well as usual.

Later—Greeley has escaped, and a body guard has been set around Sheppard's boarding house.

My brother in law writes from Chicago:

Hess of the Opera House was discovered under a bench in a street car about five minutes ago laying (down) for Storey. He was armed with seven sword canes all hid down his back. Storey intended to take that very car but finally concluded not to and walked home in the rain. A friend is now congratulating him on his escape. The pen is mightier than the sword cane.

Later—Some one has just discovered a plot to blow up the editor of the Republican by putting a nitro glycerine torpedo in his cream. They first put it in his free lunch but, fortunately for him (and for the proprietor,) the editor went to another establishment where the clerk don't scowl at a fellow for taking two pieces of pretzel."

Cincinnati, Midnight.

"Wash McLean has just set down to a lunch. He expresses his determination to hold this line all Summer. Friends are trying to persuade him not to. Halstead has not been seen for two hours. He was then wildly gesticulating to a sexton. All the undertakers in the city met last night and a resolution was carried which materially advances the price of coffins.

Later—McLean is looking out of the back door. He says that it is hard to have to leave the beautiful Spring posies and blossoms, but he is ready to die. There are many anxious Enquirers as to when the battle is to rage."

My aunt telegraphs from Cleveland:

A bloody duel would have happened to day if the weather hadn't been cloudy. The Leader and Herald both want to die, but the city officials are keeping them apart, as neither one owns a cemetery lot, and coffins are coffins in this town. Nothing can prevent a deadly conflict—nothing on earth.

Later—The two editors have gone to the circus together, and are now watching the antics of the trick mule, poking each other in the ribs when an extra intelligent movement is made.

My mother in law sends a dispatch from Omaha:

A dreadful tragedy was committed here last night. As one of our editors was going to the Good Templars Lodge some one hit him in the back with a fish. The assailants escaped. So did the fish. So did the editor. He sat all night on the stairs with a double barreled shot-gun across his legs, but nothing happened to further disturb him but a cat fight. I send you the paper with a two column account of the affair, the cat fight I mean.

My grandfather invites me from Montreal in this way:

"Come on, we are having the best times you ever saw. Five editorial fights in one day. It collects a crowd every time, and there is a good chance to bet. I made $7 yesterday clear cash, betting on the editor of the Howler. He scooped everything before him."

Sketch of Mrs Calhoun-Runkle.—Mrs Calhoun is about five feet five inches tall, of slender figure, and exceedingly graceful. She is of the brunette type, has a profusion of dark brown hair, a low Greek forehead, a long, thin nose, a mouth which shuts too closely for pure beauty, and large, dark, yellow-brown eyes, and is one of the most elegant and accomplished ladies in the metropolis. Pretty she is not, but that she is often very handsome every one that knows her will not hesitate to declare. Her husband, Henry Calhoun, for many years in the New York Custom House, died early in the Spring of 1867. About the time of Calhoun's death her health began to fail, and for a time she was obliged to seclude herself almost entirely from society. Her physicians recommending a change of air, she went last Summer with Vice President Colfax's party over the Pacific Railroad to California, to the Yosemite valley and Columbia river regions. In December last she became the wife of Cornelius A. Runkle, an eminent member of the metropolitan bar.

A colored "Grant and Colfax" club has been organized in Cleveland, with 113 members.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, old Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousand persons both male and female are there who are suffering from a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system [illegible] Look at the pallid muscles and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions disqualify them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his special study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use. For Ten Dollars sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are barbers, shoe makers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1865. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry. It will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets. Dr [illegible] advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten, are bogus. There is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, (Private Entrance on Commercial) San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.
